

Hannah Battershell

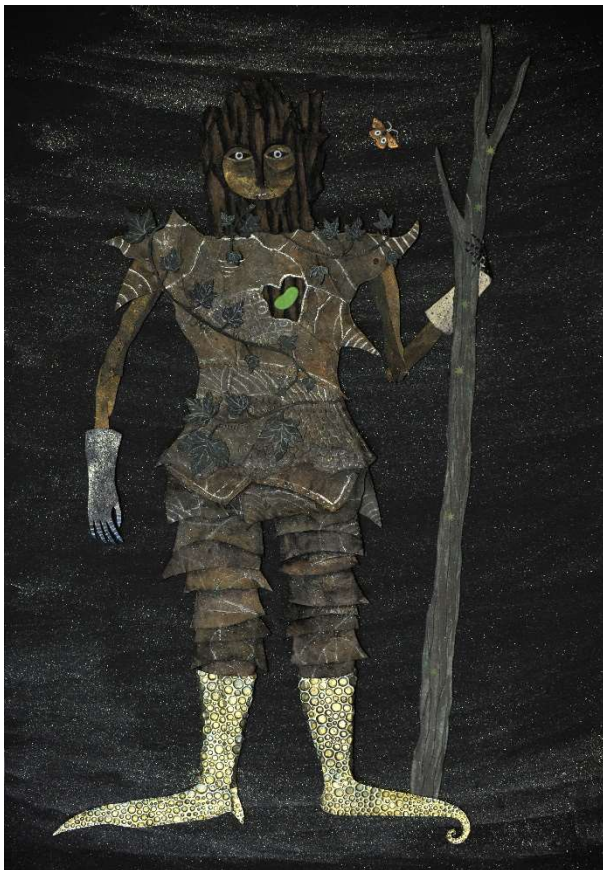

The Green Fingers

Saturday 20th April - Saturday 11th May

Deptford Quirk, London, SE14 6TW

The Green Fingers is a new animation and series of painted collages by Bristol based artist Hannah Battershell. This collection of works introduces the audience to a folktale of Battershell's own invention which is inspired by traditional stories such as Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Jack and the Beanstalk as well as classical myths such as Demeter and Persephone.

This tale takes the audience on a magical adventure into the neglected English soil in order to discover the microscopic ecosystem which underpins the natural world. A mysterious Green Knight is our guide on this journey. An ancient intermediary between the human and non-human worlds; the knight invites us to re-evaluate our relationship with the soil as it warms with the return of the Spring.
